

Rabbi Wise at Temple Emanuel For Celebration

Social Preacher and Publicist to Speak at Dinner Friday Night Preceding Public Program at Temple Emanuel in Commemoration of 75th Anniversary—The Program of Activities.

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue, New York city, will be the speaker at a dinner in the Governor Clinton Hotel, which will precede a public program to be given at Temple Emanuel Friday evening in commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the temple's service here.

Services at the temple will begin at 7 o'clock and will be attended by prominent lay citizens and the clergy of Kingston. Among those who have been invited to hear Rabbi Wise speak are Philip Elting, Judge G. D. H. Hasbrouck, Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey, Palmer A. Canfield, Jr., Judge Joseph M. Fowler and Harry H. Fleming.

Rabbi Wise and his wife will be met in the afternoon at Poughkeepsie by a committee composed of Rabbi Morris Rose of Temple Emanuel, Max L. Reben and Raphael Cohen and escorted to Kingston. Dr. Wise is famous internationally for his achievements since the starting of his career in 1892 when he was graduated from Columbia College. He was made a doctor of philosophy at Columbia in 1901.

Rabbi Wise's Career
Dr. Wise, descendant of a long line of rabbis prominent in German speaking lands of Europe, came to the United States in 1875 and was educated in the public schools of New York city. He attended City College before going to Columbia College. His first pastorate was the Madison Avenue Synagogue of New York where he remained for seven years. He then went to Beth-Israel, Portland, Ore., where he took an active part in social, educational and civic affairs. He became a member of the Child Labor Commission of the state of Oregon. He declined a place in the cabinet of Mayor Harry Lane while there.

Rabbi Wise is president of the Free Synagogue which he founded after refusing the pastorate of the Cathedral Synagogue of America because "it was subject to and under the control of the board of trustees of the congregation." He founded the Zionist organization in America of which he was president at various times and was its representative at the Versailles Peace Conference. He is now chairman of the United Palestine Appeal. He is president of the American Jewish Congress and of the Jewish Institute of Religion, a school of training for the Jewish ministry and leadership in the field of education and social service, which he founded in 1922.

The first feature of the celebration will be a reception and dance at the Jewish Community Center, Broadway, Thursday evening. CITY CLERK SEEKS TO LEARN OF BOWER FAMILY

This morning City Clerk George W. Moore received a letter from the Seamen's Bank for Savings in New York city, stating that it had an account in the name of Peter Bower which has become dormant. The account was opened in 1887 at which time Bower gave his relatives as two brothers, Toby and Simon, and one sister, Mary, and stated he was born in 1865 in Rondout. The bank is anxious to get in touch with the family and anyone having information is asked to telephone it to the city clerk who will forward it to the bank.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION SEEKS TO BAR ALIENS

New York, April 17 (AP)—The Actors' Equity Association today was holding a 100 per cent Americanism movement which if successful would drive George Arliss and Grant Stewart, two of its influential members, out of the organization. Arliss is an Englishman, Stewart a Scot.

Thirty-nine members of the association signed a petition which was presented in "Equity," the association's magazine, asking a revision of the constitution to bar aliens from holding office in the association, having a vote or being employed by it.

State Democrats To Name Smith

Democratic State Committee to Formally Place Governor Before Country as Presidential Candidate—Will Also Select Delegates-at-Large.

New York, April 17 (AP)—The New York Democratic State Committee meets today to select delegates-at-large and alternates to the national convention at Houston and to formally place Governor Alfred E. Smith before the country as a presidential candidate.

Public Service Commissioner George R. Lunn, former clerkman and mayor of Schoenectady, N. Y., is scheduled to offer the governor's name to the committee. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of Governor Smith's 1924 campaign manager, is to second the nomination.

George W. Olvany and Surrogate James J. Foley, who conferred with the governor at Asheville, N. C., have returned to the city for the meeting with the draft of a resolution it is understood the governor has approved.

The slate of delegates-at-large which is expected to be named, includes John W. Davis, Democratic standard bearer in 1924; Mayor James J. Walker, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Norman E. Mack, Miss Elizabeth Marbury, Mrs. Clarence O'Day, Mrs. William H. Good and Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

The meeting is scheduled for 2 o'clock at the National Democratic Club.

Prohibition Not Socialist Issue

Party Ignores Dry Question in its National Platform—Socialist Candidate for President Calls it "Republican and Democratic Mess."

New York, April 17 (AP)—Prohibition has been excluded as an issue in the Presidential campaign of the Socialist party.

This action was taken by the delegates to the National Convention of the party last night when a resolution was adopted, 72 to 30, to ignore the prohibition question in the party's platform.

Norman Thomas, chosen as the party's Presidential nominee, expressed the opinion that prohibition was "a Republican and Democratic mess," and that the issue was relatively unimportant in comparison with the issues which the Socialist party will stress in its campaign.

Mr. Thomas, in accepting his nomination, told the delegates he did not expect to be elected, but was "prouder of being in the Apostolic line of succession from Eugene Debs" than he would be of victory at the polls.

Mr. Thomas's running mate will be James H. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor and a member of the city council of Reading, Pa.

Mr. Thomas, a resident of New York but a native of Marion, was defeated as candidate for governor of New York in 1924, as candidate for mayor of New York in 1925, and for alderman last year.

D. A. R. Congress Turns to Business

President Coolidge in Speech Warned Against Destruction of Local Self-Government—Daughters "Blacklist" Up for Discussion.

Washington, April 17 (AP)—Having heard President Coolidge warn against the destruction of local self-government and other prominent speakers on preparedness, the 57th Continental Congress, Daughters of the American Revolution, dispensed with speeches today and turned to the business-like activity of considering resolutions.

Pre-convention rumblings of discontent among a small group of society members over the policy of the national officers in blacklisting national speakers and supporting the naval building bill failed to break out on the surface at the first session.

Today, however, such an opportunity presented itself with the receipt and debate of the report of the resolutions committee.

Indications were that the protests would take the form of a resolution to be introduced from the floor demanding that the national officers in the future announce no national policy without first submitting it to the rank and file of the membership of the society for consideration and endorsement.

This prediction was made by Mrs. St. Omer Roy, secretary of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom and an official delegate from Fort Scott, Kansas.

Considering Influence on Future.
"Many of the delegates are with us, though some are too timid to say so, for fear of being thought disloyal," said Mrs. Roy. She added that she did not believe such a resolution would be adopted by the present congress, but that discussion of it would influence the choice of delegates to the 1929 congress, when an election for president-general will be held.

"Although I am a pacifist, I am not protesting as a pacifist but as a member of the D. A. R.," Mrs. Roy said, "and none of the members of the protest committee are members of any peace organization."

The national organization, she felt, is getting away from the principles of its founders, and would today "condemn as reds" Patrick Henry and the other patriots from whom they proudly claim descent.

Disapproves Referendum.
Disapproval of the idea of a referendum on national policies was expressed by Mrs. Herbert Backus, state regent of Ohio, who pointed out that the D. A. R. is a delegated body and held the referendum system would weaken the authority of the delegates.

Further indications that the national officers would be upheld should the referendum proposal be offered was given by the Massachusetts delegation which voted to support Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau, president-general, and the "national society in all its projects."

"This was entirely a vote on national defense and is not to be interpreted as a vote on the question of the 'blacklist,'" explained Mrs. James C. Peabody, state regent and leader of the Massachusetts delegation.

FIGHT BATTLE OF MONS IN CANADIAN LIBEL SUIT
Coburg, Ont., April 17 (AP)—The supreme court of Ontario today was the scene of a second fighting of the battle of Mons as General Sir Arthur Currie, former commander of the Canadian Corps, sought to refute charges that the entry of the Belgian town by Canadian troops on November 11, 1918, was made at a deliberate waste of human lives to glorify the Canadian headquarters staff.

The former Canadian commander is seeking $50,000 damages in a libel action against W. T. Preston, at one time Liberal organizer for Ontario, and F. W. Wilson, publisher of the Port Hope Guide.

Auto Hits Wagon, Order Mistrial Driver Injured

Milk Wagon of Kingston Creamery Damaged; Harry G. Carnright, the Driver, Injured, and Horse Had to be Shot by Policeman Relyea.

Harry G. Carnright, of 56 Elmwood street, employed as driver of a milk wagon by the Kingston Creamery of 26 Downs street, is in the City of Kingston Hospital; his wagon was damaged, and the horse drawing it so badly hurt that it had to be shot by Policeman Relyea, the result of being struck on Albany avenue by a Buick sedan driven by Chester Coutant of 54 Crown street, about 5 o'clock this morning.

According to Mr. Coutant's report of the accident to the police department he was driving south on Albany avenue and when near No. 540 the collision occurred. Mr. Carnright was picked up by Mr. Coutant and placed in a taxi and rushed to the City of Kingston Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Frank A. Johnston. He had sustained a cut on the head, and complained of injuries to his back. Later at the hospital it was stated that his condition was good.

The milk wagon was badly damaged, and the horse sustained a broken left hind leg. Dr. J. A. Muzzie who examined the injured animal ordered it shot. Policeman Relyea shot the horse.

Wells Sentenced To Reformatory

Stole Cow From Employer and Sold It For $50—Served Nine Months For Unlawful Entry.

Otis Wells, 20 years old, was sentenced to the Elmira Reformatory Monday afternoon in county court. Young Wells, who has been in trouble before and served a term of nine months in the county jail on a charge of unlawful entry, might have escaped the reformatory sentence had it not been for his former conviction. Judge Fowler in sentencing Wells stated that he would be inclined to give him a chance on account of his wife and family were it not for the former conviction and the opportunity which had been given him at that time to make good.

Wells was arrested on a charge of stealing a cow from his employer and selling it for $50 to a man in the town of Hurley. The cow was later recovered. Thomas F. Coughlin, who appeared for Wells, announced that defendant desired to change his former plea of not guilty to guilty to the charge, and asked for the leniency of the court.

In reply to the usual questions he said he had been convicted on a charge of burglary, third degree, and served time in the county jail. District Attorney Traver corrected the statement and informed the court that Wells had been indicted for burglary, third degree, but had been allowed to plead guilty to unlawful entry. At that time Judge Fowler gave defendant an opportunity to make good but the opportunity was not taken advantage of and Wells again came before the court on a second serious charge, making it necessary for the court to impose the reformatory sentence.

Hold Youth for Theft of Horse

Clayton Fields Accused of Stealing Horse of Ross DuMond of Miller's Lane and Selling It for $8 in Woodland Valley.

Clayton Fields, 19, of Springfield, Ohio, who has been making his home with his aunt in Binghamton, and visiting in Kingston, left the city last week. At the same time a large bay horse owned by Ross DuMond of Miller's Lane also disappeared together with a western saddle and some blankets. Mr. DuMond valued the horse at over $100 and when he found the animal missing swore out a warrant for the arrest of Fields on a charge of stealing the animal.

The theft was also reported to the State Troopers who traced Fields and the horse through Woodstock and learned that the youth had spent Sunday night at a farm at Wittenberg. According to the Troopers the youth passed under the name of Earl Travis. They also allege that Fields later sold the horse to Louis Haulenbeck of Woodland Valley for $8.

Fields was brought back to Kingston and turned over to the local police. After spending Monday night in the county jail he was arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court this morning when he waived examination and was held to await the action of the grand jury.

Two Are Fined $10.
Frank Wood and William Schleede were arrested Monday evening on Washington avenue, near North Front street, charged with disorderly conduct. This morning Judge Shufeldt fined them each $10.

McViney Held for Grand Jury.
Thomas J. McViney of Walden was held Monday afternoon by Justice Voss of Shandaken to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny, first degree. McViney had been arrested by State Troopers. Lloyd R. LeFever appeared for the district attorney's office and Earl Houghtaling of Walden for defendant.

Bremen Crew Reported On Way To Murray Bay

Message Also States That Junkers Plane Will Take Aviators to New York—Montcalm to Take Bremen to Halifax for Repairs—Fitzmaurice Returns to Island and Picks Up Germans.

Ottawa, April 17 (By The Canadian Press).—A message from Quebec this morning reported that the crew of the transatlantic monoplane Bremen was on its way from Greenly Island to Murray Bay in a relief plane jointly piloted by C. A. (Duke) Schiller and Dr. Louis Cuisinier.

The relief plane was taken to the island by Schiller and Cuisinier from Murray Bay and yesterday Schiller flew back to the mainland with Major James Fitzmaurice, Irish member of the Bremen crew, leaving Baron Ehrenfried Von Huenefeldt and Captain Hermann Koehl, the German crew members, on the island with Cuisinier. Schiller and Fitzmaurice landed 200 miles from the island at Natashquan and there had been no word of their having left there until today's message indicating that they had returned to the island and picked up the Germans and Cuisinier.

The message this morning was relayed by Quebec from Seven Islands. It was received by J. E. Gobeil, general superintendent of the government telegraph here.

The message read: "Nine thirty a. m. Seven Islands reports crew of Bremen on board Canadian transatlantic hydroplane piloted by Dr. Cuisinier and Duke Schiller jointly will arrive at Murray Bay about noon. A Junkers plane from New York will take Fitzmaurice, Baron Von Huenefeldt and Captain Koehl direct to New York. Montcalm to take Bremen to Halifax for repairs."

The Junkers plane mentioned would be the F-13, sister ship of the Bremen, which went to Montreal yesterday with a Junkers pilot and the daughter and son of Professor Junkers, German plane manufacturer.

Montreal, April 17 (By The Canadian Press).—Wireless operators in touch with Greenly Island reported today that it had been decided that the transatlantic monoplane Bremen could not be repaired on the island. They said the German aviators would fly to Murray Bay in a relief plane and continue to New York in the Junkers plane now in Montreal.

The operators said that the Bremen, which was damaged in landing on Greenly Island after carrying its crew of two Germans and one Irishman across the ocean, would be taken to Halifax on the Canadian government ice breaker Montcalm.

Fitzmaurice Off For Paris.
Quebec, April 17 (AP)—The two German members of the transatlantic plane Bremen were waiting at Greenly Island with their damaged plane today as the Irish member of the trimviate was bound for this city to obtain parts necessary to repair the plane.

Major James Fitzmaurice left Greenly Island yesterday in a relief plane piloted by Charles A. (Duke) Schiller, to select the parts necessary again to put the Bremen in running order. As soon as they are selected Schiller is to rush them back to the Bremen.

The fliers' plans then call for Captain Herman Koehl and Baron Gunther Von Huenefeldt to fly the Bremen here to pick up Major Fitzmaurice and continue on to New York. Schiller would act as guide to Quebec for them in his plane.

At Montreal, where it had been flown from New York, was the sister ship of the Bremen, the Junkers F-13, with all the necessary parts for repairing the Bremen.

It was expected the F-13 would be flown here today so that no time would be lost in stripping off the needed parts and starting them for Greenly Island.

New York Plans To Receive Fliers

Reception for Crew of Bremen to Give That Accented Lindbergh—Parade, Dinners and Luncheons Planned.

New York, April 17 (AP)—A reception rivaling that accorded Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh on his return from his flight to Paris awaits the three members of the crew of the transatlantic plane Bremen.

Grover Whalen, chairman of the mayor's committee for the reception of distinguished guests, today was completing his plans for the affair which will include a formal reception at City Hall and a march of triumph up Fifth avenue.

That the city's reception plans were being based on the assumption that all three fliers would arrive in this city together was telegraphed Commandant Fitzmaurice at Natashquan, Quebec, by Mayor James J. Walker.

When New York's program is over the fliers will face another official welcome in Washington.

The formal reception will be at City Hall Plaza, where Mayor Walker and other notables will speak. The proceedings will be broadcast by a countrywide network. The parade thereafter will take the fliers to Madison Square, where they will lay a wreath at the foot of the Eternal Light, a memorial to the World War dead. The next morning they will steam down the harbor aboard the city tug Macon through a lane of welcoming craft.

There will be a series of dinners and luncheons, and programs at most of these will be broadcast. The transatlantic telephone will belong to the fliers on the day they land, the American Telegraph and Telephone Company has announced, so that they may call their relatives abroad with messages of their safety.

Starts on South American Flight

Veteran Aviator and Companion Expected to Cover 25,000 Miles in Flight Around Southern Continent.

Fresno, Cal., April 17 (AP)—Jimmy Angel, veteran aviator, took off here at 5:37 o'clock this morning on a projected 25,000 mile flight around South America. His first scheduled stop was Mexico, Mexico, to obtain a customs clearance before heading for Guaymas, Sonora, 550 miles south of the border.

Custom formalities attended to, Angel expected to fly to Guaymas, Sonora, 550 miles south of the border, before nightfall.

Accompanying Angel were Fresno Stephenson, head of the Beacon Airways, Inc., of Fresno, flight sponsor, and William C. Benton, co-pilot and mechanic. William Berry, a photographer, will join the expedition at Guaymas.

Prefer New Plane To French Honors
Paris, April 17 (AP)—Lo Marin today quoted Dieudonne Costes, French round-the-world flier, as saying he is more interested in obtaining a good plane for a flight from Paris to New York than in receiving the honors being heaped upon him and his companion, Joseph Lebriz.

"I am deeply touched and highly appreciative of these receptions, distinctions and honors," Costes said, "but it is more than I want. All I ask is a good bus so that I can try the Paris to New York trip."

Three days in Paris have proved more trying for the aviator than their six months' world tour. The Aero Club banquet set for tonight and other festivities have been postponed for a week. This will enable the fliers to seek a little rest and to work out new projects the foremost of which is a flight to New York.

Carpino Fined $10.
Louis Carpino was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Richard Mooney at Eddyville Monday afternoon on a charge of public intoxication, and fined $10. Carpino while attending the dance at Firemen's Hall given by the Eddyville fire department, on Saturday evening, caused an uproar and was placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff Neher. He was brought to the Ulster county jail and taken to Eddyville for arraignment Monday.

Bremen's Wings Intact.
Additional details as to the damage to the plane were received in messages from W. S. Barrett, radio operator at Point Amour, 25 miles from the scene of the Bremen's landing, and from the German Baron himself, and from Robert Cannon, a director of the Canadian Transcontinental Airways at Montreal.

Von Huenefeldt's message said the wheels, cabin and propeller of the Bremen were badly damaged, but that the wings were intact. Barrett's message said the wings were intact.

Fatal Accidents in State Industries

One Hundred Sixty-Eight Fatal Accidents in New York State Industries in March.

Albany, April 17.—One hundred sixty-eight industrial workers were reported as killed during March while engaged in their regular occupations, according to a statement issued today by Industrial Commissioner James A. Hamilton. This figure is based on the preliminary reports to the Department of Labor. Further investigation by the Department of Labor will be necessary to determine whether or not compensation will be granted. This number is 24 greater than that of last month.

The preliminary reports show that 102 of these workers left as dependents 52 widows, 118 children and eight parents. Nine workers left no dependents. In 57 cases there was a failure to report whether there were any dependents. In three cases a widow and more than four children were left as dependents. In one case children were left without father or mother.

Five women and two children were among the one hundred sixty-eight workers who died. Two of these fell, one was blown in front of a motor truck, and another died of infection following a sharp piece of paper. One of the children was a telegraph boy and was hit by a trolley while delivering telegrams. The ages of the workers who died varied from 17 years old to 77. The majority of these accidents occurred to men between 35 and 55. This is the period in a man's life when he is most apt to be raising a family and his loss to society is therefore more serious.

Vehicles Cause of Death.
Whereas last month vehicles caused but 13 deaths this month they caused 37 which is more than any other type of accident. Many of the accidents could have been prevented had more care been taken by the employees. In two cases death resulted when men slipped when getting on or off trucks after they had started. Why is it that men will always continue to do this even though they realize how dangerous it is? Seven men were killed when hit by an automobile. Ordinary care in crossing streets or getting out of cars would very likely have prevented all seven. Two died when they failed to get out of the way while directing trucks into position. Three men, two being the drivers, were killed in automobile collisions. Three people died when trolley cars ran into the automobile in which they were riding. Two fell from trucks while loading or covering load. All these are accidents that a little care on the part of the employees could eliminate.

Steam and electric railways caused sixteen fatal injuries. If employees had taken the precaution to stop, look and listen as is so urgently impressed on motorists, nine of these accidents would not have occurred. Three others died of injuries received when they attempted to get out of vehicles or trolleys while they were still in motion. Employees must be taught that it is dangerous to attempt getting out of moving vehicles. Until they realize how perilous it is there will continue to be a number of such accidents, many of which will be fatal.

Two other men died of injuries incurred in other types of vehicles. One was driving a wagon when hit by a trolley and thrown. The other caught his leg in a loop of a horse-drawn chain which was covered in the snow. This chain was used to snub a load of logs down a hill. When the load started down the chain tightened, breaking his leg.

Falls Still an Important Cause.
Falls with thirty-five deaths still ranks as one of the important causes of fatal accidents. Five fell from ladders and scaffolds. One accident was due to the use of a plank unsafe for scaffold use. It broke. A scaffold, insecurely fastened, slipped, causing another worker to fall. Another slipped from a ladder. These were all due to carelessness or haste and the absence of proper inspection of scaffolds or ladders. Ten workers fell from other elevations such as boxes, platforms, runways, etc. In most of these cases the report says only that the worker fell from a height and does not give the reason for the fall, except in one case where a box tipped over. Eight workers died from injuries received when they fell on a level surface. Five of them slipped, one was blown in front of a motor truck, one fell over a chair, while the third hit his weight against a door which had stuck. Several of these injuries were non-fatal in themselves, infection set in due to improper care. Five workers lost their lives from falling down stairs but the reports did not give any causes for the slipping or falling that might help to prevent future accidents of this type.

One can not emphasize too much the necessity of drilling employees in caution and warning them of the necessity of using care when working or walking in dangerous places. A vast majority of the falls reported were due to slipping. Although one may slip a thousand times and never hurt himself, the thousand and first time, if working in a dangerous place, may be fatal.

Handling Objects Cause 21 Deaths.
Strains were reported as the cause of eleven deaths. Judgment on the part of the foreman can prevent many such accidents. Five men died from injuries incurred in handling sharp objects or hand tools. Four of the injuries became infected. Had the first injury received proper medical attention these would have been eliminated. Infections are the result of the failure properly to take care of minor injuries such as cuts, abrasions, pinpricks, splinters, etc. The employer should not only have first aid available but should instruct each foreman to see that his workmen receive first aid for such injuries. No matter how willing the employer may be to render medical attention it depends on the worker to report for that attention.

Many accidents are due to the employee, many are due to the employer. Each may seemingly do his best to safeguard against recurrence.

PINE HILL.

Pine Hill, April 16.—M. C. Myers and Mrs. Ada Hubert made an automobile trip to Albany last week. Jay Messer of Iodessa came to Pine Hill last week to attend the funeral of Heredia Gossio. Mr. Messer is a brother of Mrs. Gossio and was a former resident of Pine Hill.

Quincy Morton, of New York City, was a Pine Hill visitor last week. Several property owners in this section have posted their lands for bidding trespassing for hunting and fishing. It is not so much the purpose of protecting the fish and game as to protect their property. Many fishermen and hunters tramp through planted grounds and tear down fences which they neglect to repair, thus causing the owner more or less damage and inconvenience. Mrs. Edgar Mills entertained the Ladies Aid Society at her home last Thursday afternoon.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church held their annual meeting at the Church Hall last Thursday and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. George DuBois; first vice-president, Mrs. Nettie Simpson; second vice-president, Mrs. Isaac Whipple; treasurer, Mrs. Apples Satterlee; secretary, Mrs. A. G. Mayes.

A large number of people from out-of-town attended the funeral of Hezekiah Gossio last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Walton Persons and two children visited friends at Kingston last Friday and Saturday. Clarence C. Dunham of Shandaken was at Pine Hill Saturday.

Louis Cohen of Brooklyn, owner of the Rip Van Winkle Hotel at this place, was in town over the week end.

SEAGER.

Seager, April 16.—Jay Gould of New York spent the week end at Forge Cottage.

Word was received on Saturday of the death of Mrs. Lucy Howard in Utica. Mrs. Howard, aged 76 years, was a daughter of S. M. Seager of this place and spent her early life here. She married Ezra B. Howard of Tannersville. She lived for a time in Kingston with her daughter, Mrs. L. E. Gray. The survivors are a son, Seager, of Sherrill, N. Y.; a daughter, Mrs. L. E. Gray, of Utica, with whom she lived, three grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Funeral interment at Utica.

Mrs. Olive Hart and grandchildren of Bayonne, N. J., are visiting relatives here.

Howard Todd of Waterbury, Conn., arrived Saturday to spend the summer on his farm at Haynes Glen.

ESTABLISHED 1865 . . . STILL UNDER THE SAME OWNERSHIP

Why Pay Extra for First Year Insurance on Tires that Need It
It's the SECOND Year that Makes the Big Hit

Not only the second 10,000 miles, but the uninterrupted service that carries through to the last mile. The kind of protection you get only when it is built into the tire—protection that cannot be duplicated by any other line. Not the sort of protection that you collect on only by having trouble—But the "top quality" protection that means avoidance of delay, of dirt, of soiled and sometimes spoiled clothing, of ruined tubes through going flat. These are the real problems that car owners want today. Freedom from trouble and longest uninterrupted tire wear—two to one.

With the present low rubber prices, what's the use of worrying along with the ordinary tire. Take advantage of this Trade-In Sale to still further reduce the first cost. Run this year and next year on Generals for less than you formerly paid for tires of half the mileage.

Widow Says Hays Stop Stock Sales Asked of Bonds By Injunctions

Mr. John P. Pratt tells Senate Testimony that William H. Hays, former Republican national chairman, visited her home early this year in search of the record of a Liberty bond transaction with her late husband, was given the Senate Testimony committee today by Mrs. John P. Pratt of New York.

Previous testimony has been that Harry F. Sinclair turned over a large batch of Liberty bonds to Hays and that Hays gave $50,000 of them to Pratt to dispose of in winning a campaign deficit. Through Pratt's records the names of Secretary Mellon, William M. Butler, present Republican chairman, and John W. Weeks, former secretary of war, were brought into the inquiry as prospective recipients of the securities.

Mrs. Pratt said she believed Hays came to her home on February 12, and asked her if she could find the record of the Liberty bonds he gave to Mr. Pratt.

Continue to Seek Knapp Relatives

Official Service to Find Relatives of Former Secretary of State in Massachusetts in Order to Serve Subpoena.

Albany, April 17 (AP).—For the second time since the special grand jury started its investigation of former Secretary of State Florence E. S. Knapp's conduct of the 1925 state census, activities of the prosecution extended today beyond the boundaries of New York state in an effort to corral some of her relatives who received census salaries, although they were alleged to have done so work.

At least one investigator of the Department of Law was in eastern Massachusetts, where several of the relatives live, seeking to serve subpoenas on persons who have failed to put in appearances since the first investigation of the enumeration was begun. Among these are Mrs. Ella Smith, mother of Mrs. Knapp, and Julia A. Smith, her sister, both of whom formerly lived in Syracuse, her home city. Another being sought is Charles Hubbell Smith, a brother of the former secretary of state, whose wife, Mrs. Helen B. Smith, yesterday failed to appear before the grand jury in answer to a subpoena served last Saturday.

Mrs. Smith, who is now believed to be in Bedford, Mass., together with Mrs. Mary L. Bodkin, a sister of Mrs. Knapp, and who also failed to appear yesterday, are to be prosecuted under Massachusetts law unless they appear or notify the authorities by Thursday, it was indicated here today.

Will Try to Collect Fines.

Word has been received from District Attorney Robert Bushnell of Middlesex county, in which Bedford is located, that he will proceed against the two women, seeking to collect the $300 fines which are incurred through failure to heed a summons.

If none of Mrs. Knapp's relatives appear by Thursday, when the grand jury reconvenes after a two-day adjournment, the high light of that day's session will be the appearance of Dr. Walter Laidlaw, secretary of the Cities' Census Committee, Inc., of New York, who filed the original charges of maladministration of the census against Mrs. Knapp. It was learned last night that Dr. Laidlaw would voluntarily take the stand.

Defends Fall's Lease to Sinclair

Testimony Introduced to Show That Competitors Were Objectionable as Possible Lessees of Teapot Dome.

Washington, April 17 (AP).—Defending the action of Albert B. Fall in leasing Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair, the defense in the oil case today introduced testimony that the Gulf Oil Company and the Pure Oil Company were objectionable as possible lessees because they were dominated by the Mellon and the Dawes families, both of which were represented in the administration.

H. Foster Bain, former government zoologist, gave the testimony during a long examination into which the question of drainage of the Dome came up constantly, notwithstanding the ruling of the court that it was not relevant. Bain was allowed to tell of conversations with Fall, where the danger of drainage was discussed, but he could not put into the record his own conclusions as to that possibility.

No Mention of Other Companies.

Directing a driving cross-examination toward Bain, Owen J. Roberts, for the government, suddenly veered to Bain's appearance before the Senate Teapot Dome investigation in the fall of 1923, shooting a question about Bain's failure at that time to mention the Gulf, Pioneer or Pan-

American Oil Companies in connection with the lease. Hoorer objected strenuously to this line of examination, but Justice Bailey overruled this and Bain was required to tell whether or not he had informed the Senate investigation committee that the Gulf Company was considered as a lessee of Teapot Dome.

The witness closely examined his documents produced by Roberts and said:

"I made no mention of the Gulf Company."

"Did you in that reply to the Senate committee mention the Pure Oil Company?" asked Roberts.

"No," replied Bain.

"Did you mention Mr. Doherty's company, the Pan-American Oil Company?" Roberts went on, but the court sustained an objection to this question.

Explains His Failure.

In explanation of his failure to mention the companies cited by Roberts, which the witness had named in his direct examination, Bain said that he had at that time depended upon Arthur W. Ambrose, of the Interior Department, for his information.

On direct examination, Bain said

Assistant Secretary Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., of the Navy Department, had asked that the Teapot Dome lease be treated in as confidential a manner as possible. Another contract was under consideration and the Navy wished it kept secret until the record was signed and the change in naval policy announced, he said.

Met Sinclair at Fall's Home.

Under questioning by Roberts, Bain said he had stopped over at home, when en route to California in October, 1921. Bain said that he had met Sinclair there at that time, but that he had then heard no mention of leasing Teapot Dome.

Three Rivers, New Mexico, Fall's

Roberts turned to the lease itself, developing from the witness that he had suggested to Fall the granting of the lease after competition among several companies. This was after the drafting of the Sinclair lease was under way.

"Secretary Fall told me," he added,

"that he could find nothing in the law requiring publicity."

BEE'S BUSY WHEN

AUTO STRUCK HIVES

Tulare, Cal., April 17 (AP).—Scores of motorists were stung and several minor collisions resulted from a bee blockade which jammed traffic on the state highway 14 miles south of here for several hours yesterday.

The blockade started when a truckload and a trailer of beehives collided. A huge swarm of bees arose from the hives and immediately got busy. Traffic officers were stationed at strategic points to warn motorists, but the bees proved to have a wider range than expected.

It was impossible to remove the bees and clear the highway until nightfall when they returned to their hives.

ARTIST WHOSE PAINTING CAUSED DISCUSSION, DIES

London, April 17 (AP).—Charles Sims, R. A., whose portrait of King George caused a storm of discussion in 1924, is dead at the age of 55. The Daily Mail said today that death occurred while he was visiting friends at St. Boswells, Roxburghshire.

The portrait which caused the controversy appeared in the Royal Academy exhibition and depicted the king, wearing the robes of the Order of the Garter, as thin and almost overwhelmed by the magnificence of his garments. It was later withdrawn.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 17, 1928.

The decision of a Georgia court that it is unlawful to call a man a "Tory" has brought forth expressions of surprise in England, where both "Tory" and "Radical" in a political party sense are in common use.

John F. Ryan, a porter at the New York Central Hotel, went right on "juggling a couple of trunks" when he heard that he was heir to the million-dollar estate of a forgotten uncle. A reporter guessed that this was his admirable Americanism, but our guess is that he was dazed enough to think his day's job had to be finished.

Some people shook their heads skeptically when a committee of the Baume & Mercier Commission in New York recently declared there was an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency among children under 17 years and recommended "mobilization of neighborhood resources for the supervision of children's spare time as the next step in crime prevention." But now comes the news from San Francisco of the killing by a policeman of a "hardened bandit" who "turned out to be a thirteen year old boy" and whose mother "had no idea that her little son had been doing anything wrong when he was away from home."

SIMPLE SPEECH.

A social worker, writing with shrewdness and humor about some of the weaknesses of his profession, devotes a few paragraphs to "The Gift of Tongues." That is how he refers to the high-falutin' language of the dyed-in-the-wool social worker. He remarks: "The early Christians who bragged of the rhapsodies in which they were completely unintelligible to their fellow-worshippers had nothing on the community organizer or the mental hygienist in full cry."

The intelligent portion of the general public knows that social workers have some pretty good ideas and are accomplishing some worthy work, but is not able to feel much enthusiasm because it is so rarely able to understand precisely what it is all about. Social workers—and, to be honest, professional groups of all sorts—speak a peculiar jargon which is all but meaningless to laymen with a pretty fair grasp of the English language. They develop an elaborate terminology which tends to obscure the straightforward ideas they hold. It sounds impressive, perhaps, but fails to impress because it is unintelligible.

There is hope of a change for the better, however, if these professional groups themselves are beginning to see the need of simple speech.

TWO WAYS TO LEARN.

Dr. A. Caswell Ellis, author and educator, in an article in the Journal of the American Association of University Women, tells of an interesting college experiment. A psychology class was divided into two sections. One of these was taught in the usual way—a combination of class-room lecture and general discussion. The other section was told what to do—what to read and think about—and left to shift for itself. Any printed information needed was available. Toward the end of the study period the students could seek further light from the teacher.

The class at first didn't like this self-starting method. And the teacher didn't think the self-starters were making as much progress as the class that sat and let itself be lectured to.

When it came to final examinations, there was a revelation. The lecture class averaged 58 per cent and the self-study class averaged 92. Evidently it is as true in the class room as elsewhere that what a person does for himself teaches him more than what he hears from another. The fact has an obvious bearing on home study. With a little good supervision and advice, it's possible to get a pretty good college education without going to college.

SO MUCH TO THE GOOD.

For many years Philadelphia has been "corrupt and contented" in a characteristically quiet way, and was feared that Chicago was known as the "City of the Great Corruption." But the result of the recent primary election in which it failed as a victim of the "corrupt and contented" machine was a lesson in the value of the vote. It was a lesson in the value of the vote. It was a lesson in the value of the vote.

But Thompson, as one shrewd observer remarks, has been beaten before and has recovered. "Republican politics in Illinois is largely a matter of fractional combination of the ins and the outs, and no one can be sure that the machine which won won't before the snow flies again have made some sort of deal with the machine which lost. The fact that the Deane organization swore eternal enmity against the Thompson organization is no guarantee, judging by the experience of the past, that there won't be an alliance in the future. One can rejoice that Thompson was trounced, but after looking at the forces which trounced him, there is no particular reason for assuming that the political system of which he was a part has been destroyed." In other words, only future developments can show whether congratulations are now in order.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

CITY VERSUS COUNTRY HEALTH.

Every year the health officer of a community comes to the mayor, board of control, board of aldermen or other ruling body, to ask for a fair appropriation of money with which to care for the health of the community.

Some of these health officers, with high professional standing, cannot understand why there should be the least question about the needs of their department.

They go on the common sense idea that "it is better to have a fence at the top of the hill to prevent accidents, than an ambulance down in the valley."

However some of the figures now available should be of great weight in their arguments for an adequate grant.

For many years it was known that the health of country residents was on the whole better than that of city residents.

It was likewise known that the death rate in proportion to the population was less in the country than in the city.

This of course was only to be expected because of the outdoor life, the plain food, regular meals, more sleep, and less worry of country life.

However the death rates in the cities since the year 1900 indicate that the country districts have lost this advantage.

Why?

Because the cities for their own protection, in the crowded areas must give close supervision to the health of the community.

Dr. P. W. Covington tells us that "surveys show country children to have more physical defects, and give a history of having more ailments than city children."

In other words parents living in the city whether rich, poor, or of medium circumstances, have right at their doors an opportunity of having the youngster get defects corrected before he goes to school. If they neglect to do this before the school age, then the defects are detected by the school physician, dentist, or nurse, and the parents notified.

What happens in the country? The defects are perhaps not noticed, or if they are, parents are so far away from the help needed that they do nothing about it. Thus bad tonsils, bad teeth, adenoids, poor hearing, aside from measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and so forth, do damage to the system, the health condition is being lowered, and the death rate raised in our country districts.

These facts should be of help to city and also to country health officers in their request for money to help care for the health of the community.

The health of a community is its biggest asset.

More Relics For New Museum

Many Interesting Articles Acquired to Senate House Association for New State Museum by Greene County Woman.

Thomas J. Comerford, the executor of the last will and testament of Miss Frances E. Fryatt, who a resident of Greene County, has delivered to Judge Clearwater, president of the Senate House Association, a number of valuable and interesting articles bequeathed by Miss Fryatt to the trustees of the association. Among them are a handsome saber made for and bequeathed to a member of the London Horseguards, the life guards of the Kings and Queens of England. It was made by a celebrated English sword maker, has a beautiful Damascus blade with the insignia of the Horseguards surmounted by the British Crown. It belonged to an ancestor of Miss Fryatt, who was a member of that distinguished military organization. There is also a large lithograph of the telescope moon painted by Henry Harrison, the distinguished astronomer painter, who devoted three years to its production. The painting is the only one in existence showing the craters and mountains of the moon. From the painting a number of lithographs were struck for presentation to the great universities of the world. None were sold. The copy presented to the Senate House was given by the artist to Miss Fryatt because of an article written by her for the Popular Science Monthly regarding it.

Other relics are beautiful lacquer porcelain fruit basket made at the celebrated Cauldon potteries of England; a Wedgwood blue and gray syrup dagon ornamented with shamrock; a marine telescope mounted upon a tripod, the United States Navy during the World War, and was used as a range finder. Accompanying the telescope is a framed certificate issued by Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, certifying the use to which the telescope was devoted by two warships. A square of beautiful brocade torn from a curtain of a palace in Paris during the French Revolution. The palace in which this curtain hung was occupied by an ancestor of Miss Fryatt, and was torn down to wrap up household articles at the time the revolutionists under Robespierre sacked the city. A portrait of Alida Burger Streddeford, the great grandmother of Miss Fryatt, one of the belles of New York during the War of the Revolution, and at the time of Washington's visit to that city, after the treaty of peace with Great Britain.

The Burger family of which Miss Fryatt was a member, owned the great Burger Bowerie extending from Wall street to the East River. General James Grant Wilson and Mrs. Lamb in their histories of early New York, speak of the great charm of Alida Burger, the original of this painting, who was one of the most fascinating young women of the day. The Burger family like the Roosevelt family when the British hauled down the Dutch flag, left New York for Ulster county, and subsequently the branch from which Miss Fryatt descended went to Greene county.

A pair of crocheted embroidered counterpanes, formerly belonging to the family of General John A. Moore, a distinguished soldier of the War of 1812, and used by the General as bedspreads, is another relic. Mr. Comerford stated to the judge at the time of delivering these mementoes that several other articles of equal interest had been bequeathed to the trustees of the Senate House by Miss Fryatt, which he would procure and deliver to the judge.

Miss Fryatt, was eighty-five years of age, at her death, two weeks ago, was a woman of fine education, of great refinement, a writer of note and contributor to a number of the magazines of the last century. She was an ardent admirer of Governor Alfred E. Smith, and immediately after the governor laid the cornerstone of the new Senate House Museum on the 10th of September, decided to present the mementoes here described and a number of others to the Senate House Association. With Mr. Comerford she visited the governor at Albany by whom she was cordially entertained and who she informed she intended to make this presentation. The governor greatly is interested in the collections at the Senate House which he regards as by far the most interesting gathering of articles connected with the early history of the state it has been his fortune to see. The trustees feel they largely are indebted to the governor and Mr. Comerford in securing these welcome additions to the collection.

Make a Hat Ornament Out of Your Odd Earrings—Modern Jewelry Continues to Come in Sets, as in the Olden Days

Paris—Most smart women affect earrings at one time or another; some wear them constantly, changing the type to suit the occasion. Pendant crystal earrings, the crystals cut, and even set, are a brilliant and rather deceiving evening accessory. While crystal jewelry is not taboo for day wear, the crystal earring rarely is paraded with the street costume, for which we are thankful, as the use of glittering crystals is in questionable taste by day.

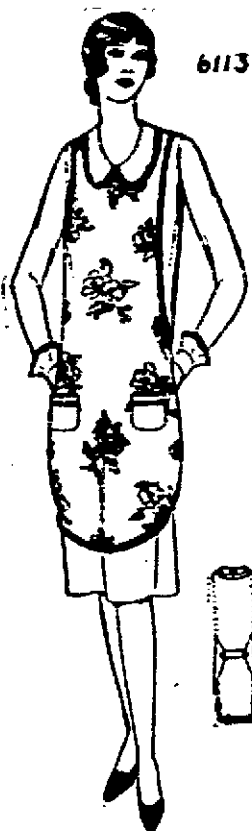

In nearly all the grand maisons, it has been explained, jewelry is shown, and nearly always in sets, including one bracelet, necklace, and earrings. These latter usually—always, it seems, one might say—are of the pendant type.

Those who have not had their ears pierced find earrings a responsibility and expense. They usually find them for the average woman. Marring a prince gives one privilege. (Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.)

Quaint and Flowerlike Are New Evening Frocks

The new evening frocks to be seen in the world of fashion at Paris have a quaint, flowerlike quality which is far removed from the straight-lined mode of the past season, observes a fashion writer in Liberty.

Frocks with a definite "picture" character have more cachet and charm than those merely smart, wholly standardized gowns which look, at least, as if they were turned out by the hundreds from the same mold. They, the new fashions, are memory-stirring, modes, and suggest that the wearer knows all sorts of indefinable alluring secrets.

Changes in fashions are on the way, and the evening modes are their forerunners. Particular women in Paris no longer wriggle themselves into narrow tubes of chiffon or crepe, made dazzling by a few beads or draperies, exactly like that every other 1925 Eve is wearing. The smart evening gown is rather formal, very personal, and bids you remember that woman is a creature who lived and reigned many epochs since the world began.

On Rearing Children from CRIB TO COLLEGE

Compiled by the Editors of "CHILDREN,"
The Magazine for PARENTS

Food for children should be carefully balanced, well prepared, and attractively presented.

Restricting a child's motor activity unduly has the further bad effect of limiting his knowledge about the world. Little children learn to see new things and new aspects of old things by handling them. Quickness of eye goes with quickness of hand.

The best antidote for any injury is prevention. A careful mother will never leave poisons about where a child can get hold of them but will keep them under lock and key. She will further safeguard against accidents by banning guns and pistols from her household or by demanding that they be kept out of reach. Sharp tools will be replaced carefully in the tool box after each using, and dangerous or broken ladders will be consigned to the woodpile before they cause accidents. Wise precaution will prevent many an accident. But if accident occurs the parent should know what to do until the doctor comes.

Many mothers—and some fathers along with them—seem to feel that their children owe them their respect and confidence. Perhaps! A mother or father who has sense enough to earn that respect and confidence rarely demands either; the other mothers and fathers usually demand everything and deserve considerably less than they get.

An unhappy, despondent, depressed mother is apt to develop an unhappy child, while the child who is accustomed to seeing his mother react joyously to the petty cares of daily life, is getting the very finest brand of mental hygiene attainable.

The mother who is vaguely "musical" feels that she must have a daughter who will shine on the concert stage. How much wiser such a mother would be if she discovered, as early as possible, the trend and extent of her child's real capacities and directed her training toward their development, instead of clutching at an unattainable ideal to satisfy her own vanity. How can a child grow in self-confidence and security if he is subject to impossible demands?

Treat children with dignity. Be tolerant of their mistakes. We have all made them. Applaud their every step, no matter how faltering it seems to be. We all thrive on applause, the appreciation of the people about us. If we treat children as we ourselves would be treated, we will come to understand them and have faith in them, and they, in turn, will understand and have faith in us.

Capelets Being Shown With Evening Dresses

More and more capelets are being shown with evening dresses.

The short loose back effect, supplied for so long now by boleros, has come to be regarded as a necessity by some women. Perhaps it is for them that so many dressmakers have added a waist or hip-length cape to evening dresses. It does not cover the arms and usually ties in front with a bow-knot.

Often the cape is attached to the dress in back so that there will be no pull backwards.

ALL-BRAN brings lasting relief. Far better than habit-forming pills and laxatives whose dose must be constantly increased and which are only temporarily effective. An appetizing cereal food. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

But be sure you have genuine Kellogg's. Don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

New Rochelle, N. Y., April 17 (AP).

Attention of the pledge of abstinence from the use of tobacco required of candidates for orders in the Methodist Episcopal Church was urged yesterday by the annual New York East Conference.

The conference formally adopted a resolution which "whereby memorializes the General Conference (to meet at Kansas City next month) to eliminate the question required of candidates for orders and for membership in the Annual Conference in reference to the use of tobacco."

There was no discussion of the measure but members informally said that it was held that the use of tobacco was "a matter for individual conscience."

Donna Is Old

The oldest city in the world still in existence is Damascus. It is probable that there are ruins of other cities antedating Damascus. Excavations in Central America indicate that some of the oldest cities in the world may originally have stood in these countries. This has not yet been definitely established.

Gov. Smith Not Going to Houston

Smith's Political Silence in North Carolina—No Honorary Citizenship by Executive or His Friends—Expected to Define Attitude on Issues.

Asheville, N. C., April 17 (AP).—Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, has broken his political silence in the south where he came in search of recreation on the golf links.

An interview brought the statement from him that he would not attend the Houston convention where his cohorts will battle for the 1936 delegate votes necessary to name the party standard bearer.

Pressed by newspapermen as to whether he might reconsider this decision, the governor said:

"No, I meant that I will not attend. There's no use of my going."

There was no elaboration of this statement and friends of the New York executive now vacationing here at the Blumore Forest Country Club would make no comment or venture to predict the reasons back of the decision.

The declaration came on the eve of the meeting in New York today of the Democratic state executive committee, which was expected to take some action formally placing Smith in the Presidential contest.

Although Governor Smith has avoided a direct declaration of his candidacy, he has taken steps, as required by law, to permit his party followers in Massachusetts, Michigan and South Dakota to support him in their respective state Presidential primaries.

Should the New York meeting today take some definite stand regarding Smith as a candidate, it is expected that the governor, in acknowledging such action will seize the opportunity to define his attitude on various issues. There have been indications here that he would make such a statement before he returned to New York.

Cheese Long Appreciated
An idea of the antiquity of Roquefort cheese may be gained from the fact that it was extolled by Julius Caesar and Pliny the Elder as the unequalled product of the Gauls. It related waves of invasion. Throughout the Dark Ages the fabled lords, in the charters which stipulated the annual tribute to be added to their store, included Roquefort cheese.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

WHAT SHALL BE LAST?

MAETERLINCK, deep thinker and able and entertaining writer, advances a new idea. Discussing the life of insects he advances the theory that they may yet overtake the earth and be "the rivals of our last hours and perhaps our successors."

There have been a thousand and one opinions of what would happen to the human race in the ages to come—what would be the conditions on this speck in the universe when the last day should dawn. But this is the first time that the writer has ever come across the theory that the insect life was likely to overpower all the other forces of our planet and become its masters.

The idea is, however, not so grotesque as it first appears. The ant is a thousand times more industrious than man. The spider much more ingenious. The bee much braver. And all the insect world reproduces itself with tremendous more frequency than mankind.

To the student of nature there cannot be any doubt of the tremendous power in the insect world. As far back as Bible times the most dreaded plagues were the plagues of insects.

In modern days the records of destruction made by the boll weevil, the kypsy moth, the army worm, the locust, the potato bug and scores of other pests have mounted to millions on millions.

Except that the brain of man has devised methods of extermination the world would long ago have been overrun with destroying insects.

Since every attack of insects has been met and conquered by human ingenuity why should Maeterlinck conclude that sometime or other the insects are to turn the tables on man and become his conquerors?

A really greater danger than the insects lies in the rapid increase and wider spread of rodent life. The rat pest of this country has reached in its annual destructiveness the enormous annual total of $200,000,000.

Perhaps if Maeterlinck had been as well acquainted with the rat as with the insect he would have made an army of rodents our final conqueror instead of the creeping hosts which he selected.

But we may be quite sure that neither rats nor insects will overcome humanity. The brain that can build the Panama canal, conquer the heights of the air with airplanes and the depths of the sea with under-water ships; that can weigh the sun and compute the forces of unseen stars; certainly that brain will not be beaten into submission by insects nor conquered by any lower form of life.

If you want to supplement your natural courage a little turn to the second chapter of Genesis and read the twenty-eighth verse and see what God had to say regarding man and the rest of creation. Even Maeterlinck might find it worth while to reread his Bible.

SAWS

By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—

IF YOU love love, it often ain't your fault. If you lose respect, it's generally always is.

Silence might not be the best defense, but it certainly is the most aggravation.

Answerin' insults with sarcasm is tryin' to clean o' an ink spot with a fountain pen.

FOR THE GANDER—

The world over every man a holt, only he's gotta do his own collectin'.

When you talk, talk soft. But when you bit, bit hard.

Cunning and breeding is alike in this way—that the more you got 'em the less you show 'em.

You get some'n outa workin' for nothin' but not outa sittin' idle.

Champions at "Y" Saturday

Having won the Metropolitan Y.
M. C. A. championship the Central
Y. valley ball team of Brooklyn is now standing at the New York state and national titles. The Central will defend the state title, held by the team for the past six years, at the final Y. M. C. A. game on Saturday, April 21.

The Central players made an impressive record this year, going through undefeated in 15 matches.
They conquered the Germantown combination, Pennsylvania champions and Penn. Amby, New Jersey champions in the recent tri-state tournament held at Trenton, N. J. They also scored over Brooklyn, New England champions, Stamford, Connecticut, Bronx (Lafayette) and Westchester, thereby winning undisputed leadership in the east.

A year ago the Central finished third in the national tournament. The Hyde Park Y. M. C. A. of Chicago won the title. This year the Brooklyn team is regarded as one of the favorites to dominate the Chicago team. Ten men will be sent to Chattanooga for the title.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

Any apprehension on the part of the New York team concerning the poor showing of the Yankees as the spring exhibition near today appeared to have been unnecessary as the World Champions were out in front with some ease. They held the distinction of being the only Major League outfit that has not to sue for mercy.

Making their first stand in Boston yesterday, the Yankees disposed of the Red Sox by 7 to 2. George Pih-lstrom yielding only five hits. Lou Gehrig drove up his second home run of the championship season to place him two up on the mighty Babe Ruth.

Oceanic Marine Athletics seem to be slow in getting started. They lost yesterday to the Senators by 5 to 4. Lisenbee bested Walberg on the mound. Goslin lifted for the circuit in the fourth inning and in the eighth, singled along with Blum, to drive in three runs and the victory.

After nursing a winning streak through four games, the St. Louis Browns were smothered by the White Sox, 7 to 0. Alphonse Thomson eased the Browns down with seven hits and helped his teammates by banking a homer with one out in the fourth. Johnny Mostil, veteran Sox outfielder, made his first start this year by slugging out a single.

The Tigers put across a three run rally in the eighth but it was not enough to overcome an early lead by the Indians who won by 5 to 4.
Jackie Tayner of Detroit had an easy day at short going through nine innings without a ball coming his way.

The hard luck which tagged Jess Petty in the eighth drive was alongside the "Silver Fox" once again as the Braves carried off a 2 to 2 decision over Brooklyn. Rogers Hornshy gathered three hits in four times up. Petty was touched for 12 safeties while Robertson and Du-lany held the flock to eight.

Burlingame Grimes hurled the Pirates to an 8 to 1 victory against Cincinnati, stopping the Reds with six hits. The Corsairs put the game on ice in the first frame when three hits and an error produced three runs. Risey gave way to Edwards in the box for Cincinnati after the fourth inning.

The Chicago Cubs went on a batting spree in the fourth inning, scoring five runs off Jess Haines to defeat the Cardinals by 5 to 3. Earl Webb laced out a four-bagger in the fifth session. Guy Ohush allowed St. Louis only seven hits.

Cy Williams came through with a pinch home run off Pitcher Fitzsimmons with two on base in the eighth inning to help the Phillies snuff the Giants 7 to 5. The New Yorkers led by one run margin up to the eighth when five rallies crossed the plate for the Phillies. Bill Terry was the batting star for the Giants with a triple, double and single in four chances.

BASEBALL NOTES

J. N. Mock has been elected secretary of the Albany club of the Southeastern league.

The New York Yankees have the largest pay roll in baseball, more than $300,000 a year being paid its players.

Bill Janda, a Chicago semi-pro, has been signed with Burlington of the Mississippi league for the coming campaign.

Shortstop Billy Hamilton, last year with Fort Smith, has signed for this season with Vicksburg in the Cotton States circuit.

Warren Freshour, a portside hurler who tried out with the Pittsfield Hitless of the Eastern league last year, is back for another try at it.

Tom Lash, who pitched for a club in an independent league at Canton last year, has been taken on by Canton of the Central league.

Pitchers Gofor and Brush and Catcher Miller, rookies with the Boston Braves, have been turned over to Providence of the Eastern league.

Bill Hardin, second baseman of the University of California, has signed a contract to play with the Fort Smith Twins of the Western association.

Herman Reigan, a Kansas City lad who stands six feet, two, has been signed by Joplin of the Western association. He is a right-handed pitcher.

Eddie Dyer, southpaw pitcher with the St. Louis Cardinals, has been named to manage the Topeka team of the Western association. Topeka is a Cardinal farm.

Outfielder George Blackberry of Waco of the Texas league, who had planned to retire from baseball, thought better of the game and signed his 1928 contract.

S. P. (Speed) Williams, former business manager of the York club of the New York-Pennsylvania league, has been re-engaged to serve in that capacity for this season.

Elmer Tutwiler, a right-handed pitcher, has been sold by Mobile to Selma of the Southeastern league.
Tutwiler is a vet and had been with Mobile for several seasons.

Outfielders Perry Hale and William Murphy, infielders Paul Brunner and Harry Emmond and Pitcher A. Brak-ovich were released by the Martinsburg club of the Blue Ridge league.

The release of Rube Bressler to the Brooklyn Robins, means that Wally Pipp will be retained by the Reds this season. Manager Hendricks had previously hinted that Pipp would have to go.

Julian Wern, the young Yankee farmed out to Los Angeles, is making a great hit in the camp of the Angels.
Wern is a right-hander, everything that comes near his base and hitting with the best of them.

The experts on picking the Yankee club year. It doesn't mean anything about picking the Boston Red Sox will win the pennant. Last year the experts picked the Yankees. This year, however, the experts have retired.

Charles Allen, a young Jersey City pitcher in the camp of the Baltimore Orioles, was discovered to be one of these undependable things. Coach Eddie Mack found him working up a left-handed when he was tagged as a right-hander and learned from the kid that he can throw with either arm.

"Sweet After"
The After river, referred to in "Flow Gently, Sweet After," is a stream of Scotland in southeastern Australia. It flows near the junction of that country with Queensland and New South Wales and flows into the Pacific near New Cumnock church.

Internationals Open Wednesday

Newark Bears Handicapped by Illness of Four Players—Toronto Bears
First Class Pitching Staff—Teams
Well Matched on Paper.

(By The Associated Press.)

New York, April 17 (AP)—Eight teams well matched on paper form the basis for confidence of President John Conway Tamm and owners of International League clubs for a successful 1928 season. Play begins tomorrow.

The Newark Bears, popular favorites during the winter months, open the season with Toronto handicapped by the illness of Walter Johnson, manager and pitcher. Hugh McQuillan, another Newark pitcher, is suffering from a sore arm. Bill Moore is still another invalid as likewise is Adams.

The Bears have some pitchers left and they will carry on until their fellows can lend a hand. Al Mamaux will pitch the opening game. Bentley, Zubris, Russell and Brennan are veterans in good shape and Howard and Lyle, two youngsters, are anxious to get a chance.

Toronto boasts a pitching staff in first-class condition. Bill O'Hara will pitch on Jess Doyle to pitch the opener.
Other pitchers are Fisher, Prudhomme, Collins, Hankins, Senger, Satterfield, Martin, Bell, Lucas,
Fraser, Brown and Gibson.

Jersey City and Rochester should have a hard fought opening series.
Frank Gilhooly is making his managerial start with the Stealers while Billy Southworth, the former brave, fiat and Cardinal star, is leading Rochester for the first time. Thornahlen, a southpaw, will pitch for Jersey City. Rochester has not announced its nomination.

Montreal returns to the International League with a first stand at Reading. George Stallings, "Miracle Man" of the Boston Braves of 1914, has instilled a fine spirit on the Royals, although they do not rate first in advance calculations. Chet Fowler's absence will hurt Montreal. The third baseman hurt an ankle in an exhibition game.

Manager Harry Hinchman thinks he will show Reading fans a team 100 per cent stronger than the entry of last year. The Cubs will send the Keystone some worthwhile talent and several youngsters show promise.
Buffalo's Bisons, the champions,
open against the Baltimore Orioles.
George Earnshaw, called by Baltimore enthusiasts "the greatest of all minor league pitchers" will be on the mound. Baltimore has Dick Porter, the league's champion batsman, in the outfield. With him is Maurice Archdeacon, who is said to be as fast as ever. Curly Ogden, former major leaguer, will pitch for Buffalo if a right-hander is wanted. If the mantle falls on a southpaw it will be Profit.

The photograph shows Miss Gwen-dolya Sterry, one of England's tennis champions, and an attractive member of the younger set. In 1927, she, with Mrs. Hill and Betty Nuthall, was the only point winner in the Wightman Cup International Tennis match held at Forest Hill, L. I. She looks forward to another visit to America.

JACK JOHNSON RETURNS TO RING AND IS KAYOED

Topeka, Kans., April 17 (AP)—Another of the few knockouts charged against Jack Johnson in nearly three decades was on record here today.

The former heavyweight champion, who fell before Jess Willard in 1915, was knocked out in the fifth round of a ten round match here last night by Bearcat Wright, Omaha negro.

Entering the ring weighing 235 pounds, as compared to the 220 he scaled in his championship days from 1908 to 1915, Johnson held Wright on nearly even terms for four rounds. In the fifth the giant negro fell victim to a solar plexus blow which was followed by a right uppercut and remained down for the full count.

MORE GAMES AND DANCES AT PORT EWEN

It was announced recently that the weekly basketball games and dances at Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, would be discontinued, which is not so. There will be a number of games played in the future and on Friday night the Port Ewens will meet the Y's Men in a "rubber" game. Each team has two to its credit and the tilt to decide supremacy is expected to furnish some fast playing. Music for dancing will be furnished by John P. Erne's orchestra.

Famous Jockey Has Fatal Fall

Havre De Grace, Md., April 17 (AP).

Orville Bourassa, nationally known jockey, was fatally injured this morning when a broken saddle girth threw him from his mount on to the fence in a workout.

Bourassa was taking Julia for an early workout and just as they reached the four furlong post the saddle girth broke. The rider was thrown against the fence, his head striking the top of an upright post.

Picked up unconscious, Bourassa was rushed to the Havre De Grace hospital where it was found his skull was fractured and an immediate operation was tried in an effort to save his life.

Bourassa, 27-year-old French-Canadian, has been riding about six years and had been in many feature races including his mount on Fair Star two years ago in the Pimlico Futurity. He is married and his wife, living in Baltimore, was summoned to the hospital, but did not arrive until after he died.

AUTOGRAPH HUNTERS ANNOY MARATHON RUNNERS

Tulsa, Okla., April 17 (AP).—Approach of the cross-country marathon caravan toward the "center of population" has left the 77 remaining runners and walkers confronting the added handicap of enthusiastic spectators.

While autograph seekers and persons demanding interviews failed to slow Peter Gavuzzi on the 41.7 mile run from Bristol yesterday, some of the athletes showed their displeasure when questioned by motorists, many of whom slowed down their cars to keep pace with the runners. Several complained of gas fumes from the cars.

Gavuzzi, who recently carried the colors of Southampton, Eng., to first place in elapsed time, arrived from Bristol in 4:47. His elapsed time for the 1,619 miles from Los Angeles was 270:42:05. This gave him a lead of more than an hour over Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., who has dropped to second place since entering his home state.

CHICAGO STOCK COMPANY AT THE BROADWAY THIS WEEK

Charles H. Rosskam's Chicago Stock company returned to Kingston Monday after an absence of three years and opened a week's engagement at the Broadway Theatre, playing to two capacity audiences with the production of "The Patsy." In the olden days of the old Opera House, this attraction was an annual visitor here, but of late years its engagements have been confined to long stays in many of the eastern cities and only last spring played twelve weeks in Utica.

Tonight the attraction is "Laff That Off," which Earl Carroll presented for over a solid year at Wallack's Theatre in New York.

Boy Editor Visiting Here.

Albert D. Bell, boy editor, who has traveled extensively in North and South America, is staying at the Van Ross Hotel here. He expects to remain in Kingston for several days. Mr. Bell, who edited a paper in Chester, Pa., when but 14 years of age, says he likes Kingston very much. The youth, who is president of the Pennsylvania Historical Society for the county of Delaware in that state, is the author of six books, among them being a 600-page "History of Chester." Mr. Bell is an Orthodox Quaker and dresses in black.

Musicians' Banquet.

Members of Local 215, A. F. of M., who intend to attend the Hudson Valley Musicians' Conference at the Clinton Hotel on Sunday, April 22, should notify the secretary before April 18.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Rio Janeiro—Two motor cars en route toward the U. S. A. from Brazil. Jose Modier and Augusto Harter are already in Chile. Lieutenant Borges de Oliveira and Enrique Pillicier have just left this city.

Frankfort—Nine German gliders and three experts leave Thursday for New York to introduce the art to America.

Detroit—The latest thing in radio-casting stations is a fast moving one 5,000 feet in the air. A speech, a song and orchestral music rendered a program in a plane studio.

Boston—Radio's saving to the world in communication charges is estimated by David Sarnoff to have reached $60,000,000.

Rio Janeiro—Latest in marathon dancing: Charles Nicholas, with wife or daughter as partner, kept at it 200 hours, going more than 600 miles and losing 20 pounds.

Kingston, Jamaica—Having played hooky and wandered in some of the seven seas for six years, a truant is going back to work for Canada. A bell buoy picked up off Santiago, Cuba, was identified by its markings and is now bound for Halifax aboard ship. It appears serviceable.

New York—The latest way to set type is by a movie. A Hungarian machine described here by its agents does away with type metal. When an operator touches a keyboard a letter is photographed on a running film, which is projected to a zinc plate.

Monte Carlo—Folks who tried to break the bank last year enriched it by 124,000,000 francs.

New York—Corliss Lamont, who is a student of philosophy at Columbia and a son of Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan and Company, is to marry Margaret Hayes Irish, who was a member of Phi Beta Kappa at Barnard and is now doing editorial work.

Wildwood, N. J.—If the favorites of Willies B. Andrews are defeated in the city election he must enter the surf daily in a woman's bathing suit in order to pay a bet. What of it? Well, a suit of 1890 vintage is stipulated.

New York—Richard Bennett wants a thrill every time he acts. "I don't simply act for a living," he explained. "Great Scott, if it got to that I'd a thousand times sooner be a bricklayer." And so he has quit the play "Playing at Love."

BOB OTT COMING TO THE BROADWAY NEXT WEEK

Bob Ott, the funniest man on earth who heads his own company, will be at the Broadway Theatre all next week. This season Bob has some corks in store. Everything is brand new. All new numbers, new ensembles, new dances, new costumes, new song hits, and last but not least the best singing and the youngest dancing chorus in the world.

Think of "Lively Heat"

from an

OIL STOVE

EVEN BETTER COOKING HEAT THAN WOOD OR COAL WITH A

RED STAR OIL STOVE

Good cooks are not satisfied with a stove which fails to give the intense, vigorous heat needed for healthful, delicious cooking.

The Red Star is different—a better type of stove. It gives the convenience—the cool kitchen in summer—which women demand. Besides, it provides the intense "Lively Heat" which many women have thought possible only from a bed of red-hot coals. The Red Star uses common kerosene or gasoline, but burns gas without wicks. It turns these fuels into a gaseous vapor which burns and produces the cleanest, finest, most vigorous heat you ever experienced. Starts cooking the instant you light the burner.

In beauty, in sturdy construction, in sanitary easy cleaning features, the Red Star equals the best gas or electric range. Simple and easy to operate. No special piping or pressure tank required. One of the sizes and types of Red Star Oil Stoves will exactly suit your needs. Size for size, they cost no more than any good oil stove. Ask for a demonstration and the details of our easy payment plan.

"Lively Heat"

The Modern Cooking Achievement.

Red Star engineers found a way to produce "Lively Heat" in an oil stove. The Red Star "Lively Heat" burner converts common kerosene or gasoline into a gaseous vapor, which is then burned and produces the same "Lively Heat" as coal, gas or electricity. Naturally, there are no wicks or wick substitutes. It's a patented Red Star feature found in no other oil stove.

Financial and Commercial
New York, April 17 (AP)—Stock prices suffered another sharp setback today despite efforts of speculators for the advance to maintain bullish sentiment by bidding up a selected lot of oil, food and public utility shares. Losses in the active issues ranged from 1 to nearly 6 points. By noon the volume of trading had fallen to the level of the end of the third hour.
While the reaction was regarded in some quarters as a correction of an over-bought speculative position, persistent liquidation of long holdings was reported by traders and investors who were becoming increasingly alarmed over the credit situation. The relatively low loan rates placed by banks on many high-priced stocks combined with repeated suggestions that Federal Reserve authorities were not exactly pleased with recent speculative excesses, tended to dampen bullish enthusiasm.
Twenty oil shares and half a dozen or more public utilities were bid up to record high prices in the early hours of trading but part of the gains were forfeited when the selling movement assumed broad proportions.
Radio and General Electric each broke more than 5 points, the former touching 159 1/2, as against a high of 156 1/2 a few weeks ago. General Motors, Allied Chemical and Continental Can each reached 4 points or more and Graham-Paige, New York Central, General Railway Signal, American Smelting, Wright Aeronautical and Union Carbide dipped at least 3 points before buying support became effective. Losses of 1 to 2 points were scattered throughout the general list.

Memorial
In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. John W. Haver, who departed this life, April 17, 1926.
Not now, but in the coming years, It may be in the better land, We'll read the meaning of our tears. Sometime, sometime we'll understand. Death often comes to make us know, We love more dearly than we show. But love in death, should make us see, What love in life should always be. Good was her heart, her friendship sound. Loved and respected by all around. To a beautiful life came a sudden end. She died as she lived, everyone's friend.

Minstrel at Wilbur Tonight

The minstrel for the benefit of the Holy Name Parish, Wilbur, will be staged in the parish hall there tonight at 8:30. The show was put on Sunday afternoon for the children. Preparations are being made for a large attendance tonight when dancing will be held after the performance with music by John P. Ernie's orchestra. Refreshments will be served.

The stage of the Wilbur hall has been appropriately decorated for the presentation of the minstrel. The setting adds much to the splendid performance which the cast, coached by Miss Adeline Walker and John Scully, puts across. There are various solo numbers, duets, trios and a retinue of funny jokes to be offered tonight. The accompanist will be Miss Adeline McNamee, who played at all the rehearsals for the minstrel.

Motor Accidents Led Fatalities

Albany, N. Y., April 17 (AP).—More of the 143 deaths of industrial workers during March were attributed to motor vehicle accidents than to any other cause by James A. Hamilton, New York State Industrial Commissioner.

The number of deaths was 24 greater than in February, and 102 of those killed left 53 widows, 115 children and eight parents. Five women and two children were among those killed. The report continues: "In two cases death resulted when men slipped while getting on or off trucks after they had started. Seven men were killed when hit by automobiles. Two died when they failed to get out of the way while directing trucks into position. Three men were killed in automobile collisions. Three persons died when trolley cars ran into automobiles in which they were riding, and two when they fell from trucks while loading or covering loads."
